

2018 EDPL Young Scholars Award

CALL FOR PAPERS

The European Data Protection Law Review cordially invites master students and PhD students to submit articles based on their thesis for the 3rd annual EDPL Young Scholars Award.

The five best submissions will be published in the European Data Protection Law Review 2018/4. The three finalists will also be invited to present their work at the Computers, Privacy & Data Protection (CPDP) Conference in January 2019 in Brussels. The winner of the competition will be announced at an award ceremony during the CPDP event and will receive a one-year subscription to the European Data Protection Law Review.

The contribution must deal with a data protection issue and address it from a European perspective. The preferred approach is legal, but interdisciplinary approaches are also welcome.

The article should depict the thesis' core points, including key questions, hypothesis, methodology, findings and policy recommendations, if applicable.

Regardless of the original language of the work, submissions are only accepted in English. They are subject to the scrutiny of an expert jury which will evaluate their quality, degree of innovation and clarity of presentation.

Participation Requirements:

- Eligible Topic
- Format (5.000-7.000 words, in English)
